The San Diego Early Ford V8 Club Presents the annual

All Ford Picnic
Sunday, May 4, 2014
Santee Lakes Park

FORTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF ALL FORD PICNIC

The occasion was held on May 4th which was either Sat. or Sun. depending on which edition of the Union Tribune you read. A little public confusion plus competing events resulted in a lower turn out than last year. We had 60 cars vying for awards with the overall winner a gold, fast back Mustang. The proud owner was so taken aback that he decided to join our club.

Cars seen for the first time at a club event was Bob Symonds' gorgeous '29 roadster with a 302 Y-block and C-4 transmission. Walter Anderson arrived in his powder blue '56 Ford pickup and Jim Thomas with his '40 Ford pickup sporting a new chevy small block.

We were really glad to see founding members Norm Burke ('48 Ford business coupe) and wife Phyllis ('41 Ford pickup) and Gary Walcher with his '46 Ford coupe join us for the day. We want to see them more often.

Dennis Bailey came to the picnic holding steadfast his dream of owning a '40 Ford pickup. Explaining that you can't fit a size 14 foot into a size 9 shoe, Dennis thought that maybe you could.....and tried it. Well, it is possible but you are one cough away from destroying the integrity of the cab.

Carl Atkinson conducted the 50/50 raffle sporting a possible trend setting hat. I want one, Carl.

Rick Carlton's organizational skills and hard work creating the event was in evidence every where. As an event organizer, he should turn Pro.

We listened to the music from our DJ John Witney while enjoying the beef and pork barbeque provided by The Wranglers who hold steady that their secret sauce will remain a secret. That is because is it A SECRET. Oh.

The food was good, weather was perfect and the Santee Lakes a relaxing venue for family, friends and car clubs. We had a great time.

Thanks again to Rick Carlton and the many volunteers who made this yearly event something we look forward to each year. -Jim Thomas

The Prez Sez.

We have a host of great summer tours planned for the club. Look at the schedule on page 10 of this issue and plan to attend as many as you can. The new location for the Flapjacks & Flatheads breakfast is at Jack Rabell's other place in Descanso. You should have received a notice and map by email or check out page 9 for particulars. We had a great discussion and Q & A session with the Broadway Electric owner, Rick Zitren. He gave us some tips on keeping the charge going in our cars. Look for other events coming up that may not be "club" organized but still give us a chance to go and see the cars and participate. We have club business card that you can give to prospective new members. Remember that we are giving a reward for the member who brings in the most "new" members.

Don't forget to wear your name tags to the meetings and events. Guests feel more comfortable meeting people who have name tags on -- Carl will give an extra raffle ticket to those who are wearing their tags.

If we have pizza or cater a meal at the meeting, we will send advance notice so that you may join us instead of eating early before you come (Noted: The Pizza at the last meeting seemed to bring out more people). For a catered meal, the $5 food rebate would be applied and members would cover the balance for their catered meal.

The "Tech Tips" seem to bring more folks to the meetings, so they will continue. If any of you would like to see a program or guest speaker on a specific topic please email me at: jhildebr@cox.net. Jim Thomas is setting up the tours so if you have an idea please contact Jim. I would like to encourage the ladies to join in with the "Lady 8'ers" activities during the normal monthly meetings. Keep moving FORD-ward --John Hildebrand

The Symonds thinking, "Should we buy it?"

Shed Find.

My friend Roger told me that he knew where there was a '36 Ford 3 window coupe in a city 30 minutes to the north of me. He would not tell me where it was just that it was real nice and was sitting under a roof covered in paper mill felt. He had tried to buy it but could not close the deal.

Fast forward 4 months. Roger stops by and tells me he could not take it anymore and that he had lied to me about the whereabouts of the '36 Ford coupe. He said it was right in town and that old man Orville owned it but he wouldn't sell. I put it in the back of my brain and forgot about it. On August 2012, I thought what the heck and stopped by. Orville came to the door. He's 81 years old. I asked him about his '36 Ford all covered up under the roof next to the shed. It was not visible from the road and it was covered up with several rotting tarps and all kinds of stuff piled on and around. I could see a 59ab engine, what I thought was grey primer paint, nice left front fender and that was about it. He said it was time for me to go. I left him with a piece of paper with my name and number on it along with a price.

No call back so a week later I called and talked to his wife. She said they may consider selling the '36. I thought great, here is my chance. I told her the price I was willing to pay and she said she would get back to me in 2 weeks.

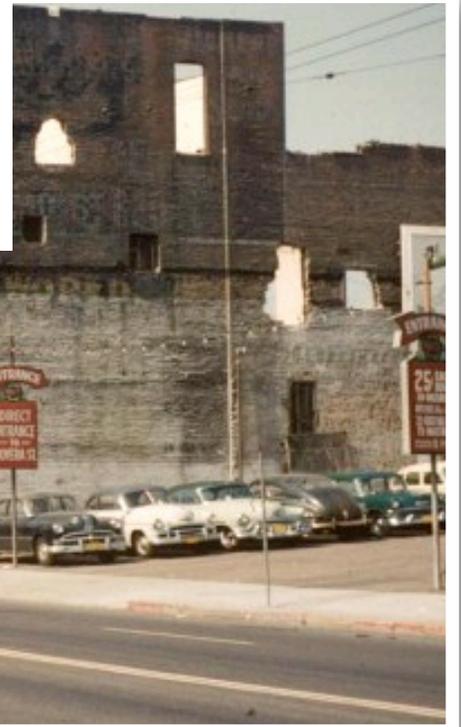

After 2 very long weeks and she was still not sure about selling. She needed to talk to her sons about it. She would get back to me. I know her older son. I called him and left a message to call me about the '36. He called back the next day. He wanted to know why I wanted the car and what I was going to do with it. I told him I wanted to preserve the car and enjoy it with my family. He was very stern about my not reselling the car to anyone else and that doing so would negate any deal. I then happened upon the other son. He wanted some info and I asked if his mother talked to him about selling the '36? He said yes and wanted to know what I was going to do with it. I gave him the same answer I then drove my Model A truck to his home and showed him what I had built. We had a great talk about cars and hot rods. He said he would talk to his mother about me buying the '36. I thought this may actually happen!! Then it got weird... I stepped back.

So from the first time I talked to Orville the owner until now, three weeks have passed. Another week goes by and I get a call from Orville's wife: "I thought you would have called us back by now. Do you still want the car?" I say yes, can I come over and take a few pictures? "Sure, come over Saturday morning but call first." So I can hardly sleep that Friday night. I wake up and call her to see if it's ok to come over? "No." Call back Sunday" So I call Sunday and ask if I can come over and she says "

My son is here and he is digging it out. I will call you later." Wow, it is going to happen I can't believe it! So around 5 pm she calls and says "come and get your car" I said I will be right over! I hooked up the trailer and grabbed the winch and my dad and went to get it. On the way over I say to my dad you know I never really got a good look at the car, what if it is not worth it? I am already committed to buying it. He says "don't worry, I'll buy it if you don't." Once we saw it out of the barn, all worries vanished. --Ford Barn Blog

Sure, the old rooming house on Los Angeles's Main Street being demolished in this photo looks rather dilapidated to begin with, but there may have been another reason for tearing it down: Just a few years prior to the December 1957 date of the photo, the entire district here – the oldest section of Los Angeles, apparently – was designated a state monument, which meant more tourist traffic, which meant increased demand for parking, which is why the whole row of buildings, back to the church, is nowadays a big parking lot. We can see that need for more parking already, with just a few open parking spots left in this photo. --Hemmings Blog

Many hands make light the work.

A few days ago John Dow, took his fresh woody around town for her maiden cruise, but the rear main sprung a leak and you could have followed it home on the Exxon Valdez oil trail--right into his garage. After consulting with Ray Brock, there was only one thing to do--pull the motor. Webb Smith loaned the magic 4 bangor engine hook, Tom Cook loaned the hoist, John, Tim, Bill and Ron stripped the motor and pulled her in about 5 hours. Liz supplied the lunch. Ray will do the repairs while the pit crew stands by to reinstall. It's a whole club event. -TS

1903--America's First Coast to Coast Road Trip

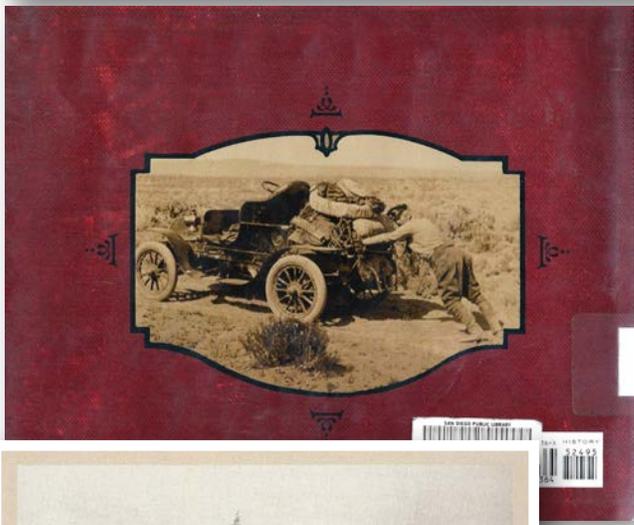

Climbing a rocky trail

Cooling the tires in a stream

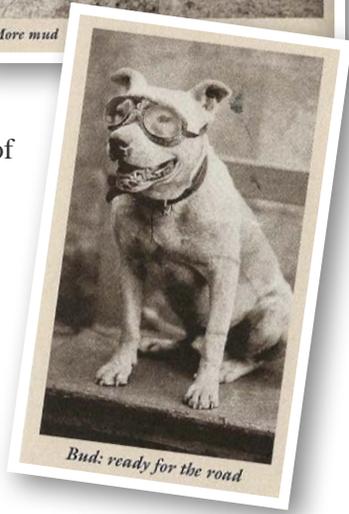

More mud

... and repairs in the open sage

In 1903, most Americans had never seen a horseless buggy -- but that did not stop Horatio Nelson Jackson, a thirty one year old eccentric doctor from Vermont, who on a visionary whim and a 50-dollar bet became the first person to drive an automobile across the continent. He was sure he could drive his 20-horsepower auto from San Francisco to New York City in under 90 days. At that time America had no connecting roads beyond the mostly dirt streets of scattered small towns. In fact only 150 miles of pavement existed in the entire nation. Once out of sight of town, there were only wagon tracks and cow paths, indian trails and migration routes leading into the wilderness. He prepared his open-air-(roofless and windowless) Winton two-seater Automobile for the trip, hired a mechanic and former bicyclist, Sewall Crocker who brought along his Bulldog, Bud, to accompany them on the months-long, bone-rattling and problem-beset trip... (Contd on page 7)

Bud: ready for the road

Their route took them from California into Oregon and the Rocky Mountain states, then across the Midwestern U.S.A. and finally to New York City. Jackson's letters home to his wife brimmed with optimism against all odds and described in vivid detail, every detour, every flat tire, every adventure good and bad. The photos show a country of mainly small towns where life moved no faster than a horse-drawn carriage and the arrival of Jackson's Automobile would cause delirious excitement and newspaper headlines. The trip made him a media sensation.

They overcame every setback - blown tires repaired again and again, broken axles welded back together by the local blacksmith and streams to cross which required a block and tackle set. There were no gas stations - only hardware stores along the way that inflated their prices as the trip gained notoriety. After Horatio's Winton left San Francisco, two other teams of drivers set out, each trying to be the first team to reach New York.

While not as epic or far reaching as the Louis and Clarke expedition, nevertheless, Jackson's accomplishment heralded a new era of dramatic change for America--in which the automobile would satisfy the restless road trips that would soon be a way of life.

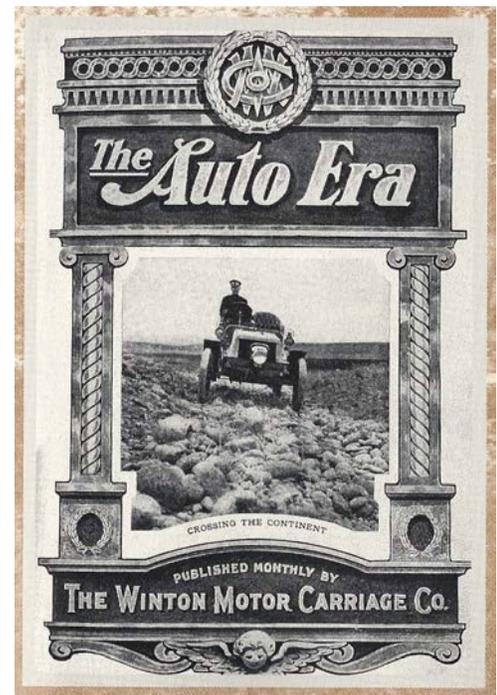

Horatio's Drive was the first new chapter in America's great romance with the road.--Book by Dayton Duncan and Ken Burns available at your local library. Film starring Tom Hanks Available on line.

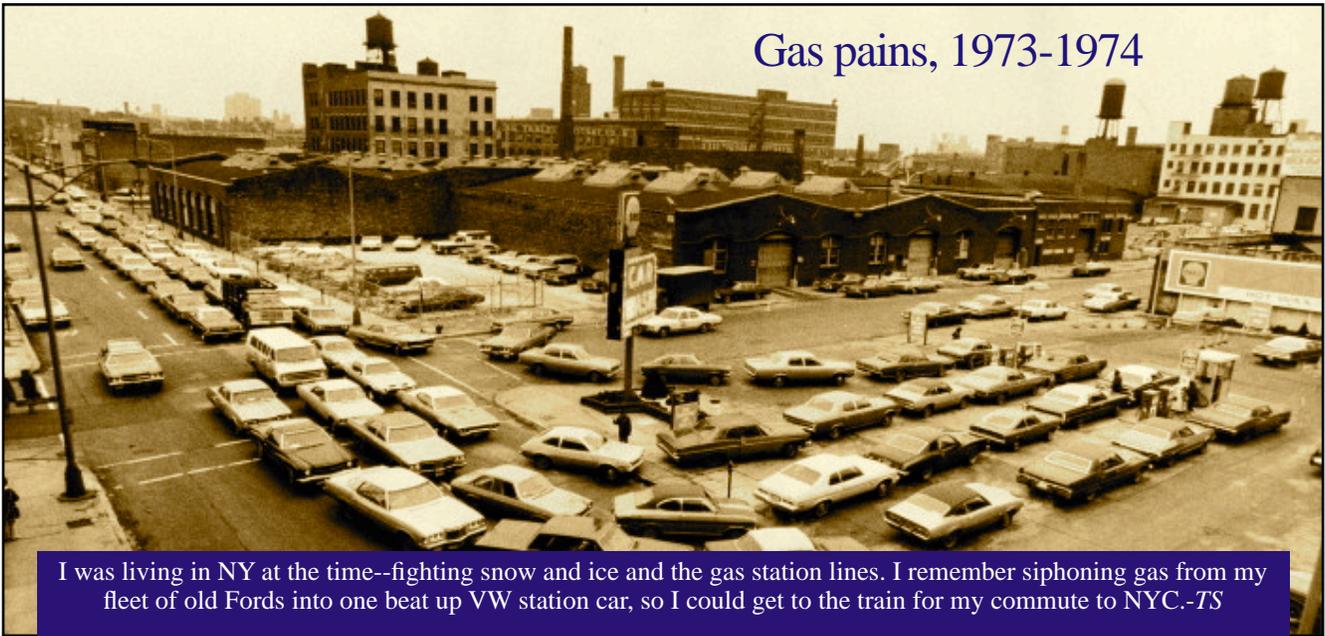

Bud guards the car.

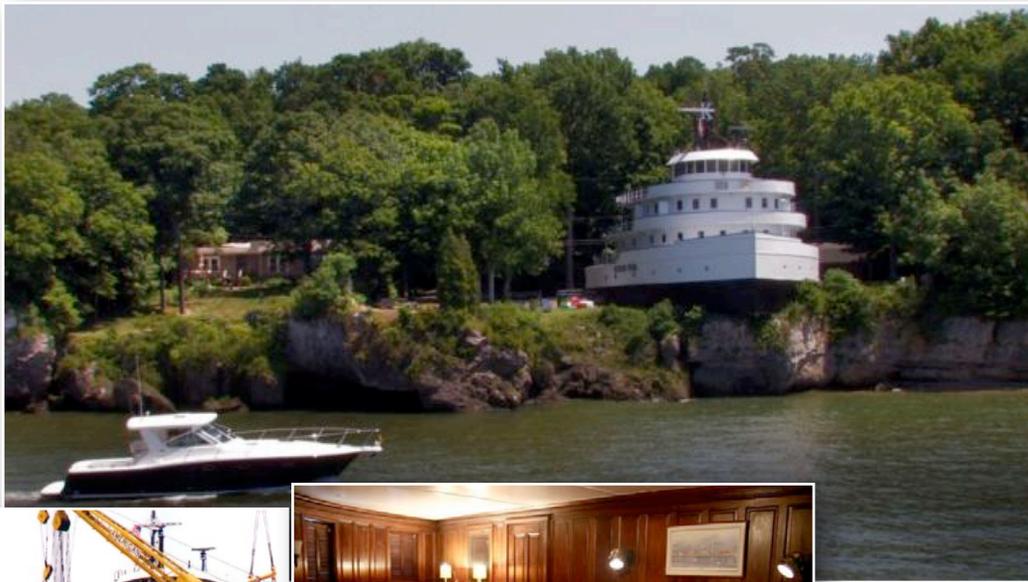

Fetch and Krarup draw a crowd.

Gas pains, 1973-1974

I was living in NY at the time--fighting snow and ice and the gas station lines. I remember siphoning gas from my fleet of old Fords into one beat up VW station car, so I could get to the train for my commute to NYC.-TS

90-year-old cargo ship serves as a vacation home, while hanging over a cliff on Lake Erie

This ship originally transported iron and coal for Ford Motor Company across the Great Lakes.
- The interior was designed by Henry Ford, and Thomas Edison was a passenger.
-In 1924, she was commissioned, The 'Benson Ford' and had a 50 year career. After being decommissioned in 1981

she was left to rust for years before her forecaskle was removed, and then that portion of the boat was positioned on a beautiful piece of waterfront property, with its bow extending out over Lake Erie for a water-going effect. Now, she's used by her owner as his vacation home.---Thanks, Michael Brandon

All Ford Picnic Sunday, May 4, 2014 Santee Lakes Park

In spite of competition from the Coronado Car Show, the Antique Drags, and the Union Tribune printing that the AFP was "TODAY" in the Saturday Wheels section, the Early Ford V8 Club put on a nice little car show at Santee Lakes. The weather was perfect and we had 60 cars at the show. I'd like to thank the volunteers that made it happen:

- Dennis Bailey was my AFP co-chairman, judged cars, bought doughnuts and prizes.
- Tim Shortt designed and printed the advertising flyers and dash plaques.
- Sandy Shortt sent eblasts to the EFV8 club members.
- Dave Huhn bought and brought the coffee.
- Bill Lewis sold his '35, dealt with the Wrangler BBQ, brought tables, ice chests and ice.
- Carl Atkinson sold 50/50 raffle tickets.
- Joe Valentino bought and brought water and sodas.
- Richard Teubner, Bob Symonds, Jim & Diane Davis checked in and guided cars to park.
- Joe Pifer, Dick Martin and Mike Brandon judged cars.
- Bill Dorr and Barbara Martin sold lunch wristbands.
- Sheryl Carlton bought dessert cookies.
- Ken Burke reimbursed the members for expenses and ran the books.

I hope I didn't miss anyone else that helped out. --Thank you all for your help! Rick Carlton
